Introduction

“Everything is just better in California”

– Beth Anderson

Welcome to California

If there is one place in this world which could be called the Underdog of Nudism, it must be California. This south-western American state has everything to fulfil the needs of the nudist. Nice nude beaches, a wide variety in nudist resorts, great weather and a whole bunch of friendly local nudists. Although nudism in California is gaining importance, the state has not (yet) managed to take a top place on the nude traveler's destination list.

A real shame, if you ask us.

We are pretty sure that by the time you've finished reading this guide, you've already booked a couple of flight tickets to Los Angeles. Or you're at least seriously considering doing so.

Nudist resorts in California

“Driving along the California coastline is the best drive in the world.”

– Al Jardine

Southern California

Riverside County

Turtle Back Mesa – Desert Hot Springs

A naturist B&B which is proud of its spa facilities. Hot mineral water is pumped up from a well to heat up both jacuzzis and the swimming pool. The comfortable rooms have no clocks, TVs, radios or phones to help you disconnect from the outside world. Wifi is available. Breakfast is included.

Olive Dell Ranch – Colton

Olive Dell Ranch is a popular family nudist resort near San Bernardino. Located in the hills it has several miles of hiking trails. There's a choice between camping or staying in one of the rental "bird houses" which are very clever built chalets. Olive Dell Ranch has several sports options, a swimming pool, spa, sauna, bar and restaurant. The resort is particularly famous for its many events like the Bare Burro Run.

San Diego County

DeAnza Springs Resort – Jacuma

Located right at the border with Mexico in the middle of the desert is another big name in Californian nudism: DeAnza Springs Resort. DeAnza has both camping spots as rental cabins, a swimming pool and a bar and restaurant. Top of the bill however are the endless hiking trails in the area where nude hiking is perfectly possible. You can find an abandoned train, a saloon and lots of desert landscapes.
